

From Paradox to Absurdity:

October 2005

Camchron 4

'Struck- Off' and all the Metaphor It !

It doesn't really feel any different.... I have no feeling of being 'de-frocked', somehow..... or' having 'me stripes and medals ceremoniously torn off'.....

Truth is I still feel like a Nurse, which affirms my conviction that Nursing has given me far more, than Nursing Council can ever take away!

Whilst always hopeful, I expected the result Must admit to some hurt though initially..... I mean a whole Year!!....Fair go!

I thought you had to stuff up the whole Drug Round, by mistaking the Aspirin for the Morphine, and subsequently forge the DDA Book to balance the narcotic count, to warrant that kind of punishment!!

And of course there is the fine.....I wonder if WINZ will provide a grant?

Maybe I could just busk in Willis St for an hour or so, and raise the fifty bucks that way.....

What is certain for me, is that I now enter the Judicial System a lot more confident of a just and fair outcome than I did 2 yrs ago, when I became subject to Nursing Council Disciplinary Proceedings.

Will this prove to be delusionary? It's my chosen journey to find out now. Should be heaps more 'absurdity material' for the Camchrons...